

The legacy of Ludwig Lachmann

Interdisciplinary perspectives on institutions, agency and uncertainty

University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa, 11-13 April 2017

CALL FOR PAPERS

Ludwig M. Lachmann (1906-1990) was an outstanding social scientist whose achievements ranged across a number of disciplines, including economics, sociology, law and philosophy. Well known for his work on Max Weber, his analysis of the limitations of equilibrium economics, and his contributions to the development of Austrian economics, Lachmann's legacy revolves around three central themes: radical subjectivism, hermeneutics and human agency; market process and legal order; capital theory and macroeconomics.

To celebrate Lachmann's life and work, WINIR is holding a Symposium at his former university in South Africa. Submissions on any of the above topics, or any other topic related to Lachmann's research, are welcome. Papers can be supportive or critical of Lachmann's views. The Symposium will use Lachmann's work as a point of departure to generate a wide-ranging discussion of the relations between uncertainty, agency and institutions.

Keynote lectures will be given by: Deirdre N. McCloskey (University of Illinois at Chicago), Richard N. Langlois (University of Connecticut & University of the Witwatersrand) and Virgil H. Storr (George Mason University).

Submissions (300 words max.) from any discipline must be made online at www.winir.org. Please note the deadlines below.

Submissions will be evaluated by the WINIR Scientific Quality Committee, currently comprising: Bas van Bavel (Utrecht, history), Simon Deakin (Cambridge, law), Geoff Hodgson (Hertfordshire, economics), Uskali Mäki (Helsinki, philosophy), Katharina Pistor (Columbia, law), Sven Steinmo (EUI, politics), Wolfgang Streeck (Max Planck Institute Cologne, sociology), Linda Weiss (Sydney, politics).

We look forward to receiving your submission.
