Welcome

WINIR has been set up to promote institutional research by bringing together scholars from all disciplines and theoretical approaches to contribute to our understanding of how institutions change the world. This initiative has attracted worldwide interest among institutional researchers. With around 520 members from six continents, WINIR is a rapidly-growing network.

We expect the Inaugural WINIR Conference to be a milestone event in our joint development of institutional research.

We hope that you will enjoy your three days in historic Greenwich, which played a key part in the development of global navigation and contributed to spreading some powerful institutions around the world in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

A number of WINIR events are planned in the near future, including the Second WINIR Conference on “Institutions, Development and Globalization” in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil (10-13 September 2015), and a focused WINIR Symposium on “The Nature and Governance of the Corporation” in Lugano, Switzerland (22-24 April 2015). Other events are in the works.

To help us organise events of the highest quality we would appreciate your feedback and ideas. Please return the feedback form that you will find in the delegate pack before the end of the conference.

We would welcome your proposals to organise or host WINIR conferences, symposia, workshops or special sessions around the world.

We hope to see you at future WINIR events.

Geoffrey M. Hodgson
WINIR Secretary

About WINIR

Officially launched in October 2013, WINIR brings together researchers in all disciplines who are devoted to the study of the nature, function, evolution, and impact of the institutions and organisations of economic and social life.

WINIR organises conferences, workshops, and hosted conference sessions, around the world. All WINIR events are explicitly about institutions (or organisations), and/or address institutional thought, from any academic discipline.

WINIR is a specialist but global network, set up to complement rather than rival other scholarly associations that have the study of institutions on their agenda. Unconfined to any single academic discipline, it accepts contributions from any approach that can help us understand the nature and role of institutions. WINIR aims to promote creative conversations across disciplinary boundaries in order to build an adaptable and interdisciplinary theoretical consensus concerning core issues, which can be a basis for cumulative learning and scientific progress in the exciting and rapidly-expanding area of institutional research.

Leading pioneers of institutional research are Honorary Presidents of WINIR:

Daron Acemoglu (MIT), Howard E. Aldrich (North Carolina), Masahiko Aoki (Stanford), Peter J. Boettke (George Mason), Paul J. DiMaggio (Princeton), Peter B. Evans (UCLA), Neil Fligstein (UCLA), Margaret P. Gilbert (UC Irvine), Avner Greif (Stanford), Peter A. Hall (Harvard), Henry B. Hansmann (Yale), János Kornai (Corvinus), Timur Kuran (Duke), Richard N. Langlois (Connecticut), Richard Lipsey (Simon Fraser), Claude Ménard (Paris), Richard R. Nelson (Columbia), Douglass C. North (WUSTL), John V.C. Nye (George Mason), Johan P. Olsen (Oslo), Walter W. Powell (Stanford), James Robinson (Harvard), Dani Rodrik (Princeton), Malcolm Rutherford (Victoria), W. Richard Scott (Stanford), John R. Searle (Berkeley), Mary M. Shirley (Ronald Coase Institute), David Soskice (LSE), Wolfgang Streeck (MPIfG), Robert Sugden (East Anglia), Kathleen Thelen (MIT), Viktor Vanberg (Freiburg)

WINIR has established a permanent Scientific Quality Committee (SQC) to ensure that WINIR events are of the highest academic quality. The WINIR SQC, that reports to the WINIR Council, consists of leading academics with expertise in economics, sociology, politics, law, philosophy, or other disciplines. Members of the WINIR SQC serve fixed terms in rotation. The inaugural WINIR SQC comprises eight members representing five disciplines:

Peter J. Boettke (George Mason, economics), Simon Deakin (Cambridge, law), Geoffrey M. Hodgson (Hertfordshire, economics), Timur Kuran (Duke, economics), Uskali Mäki (Helsinki, philosophy), Katharina Pistor (Columbia, law), Sven Steinmo (EUI, political science), Wolfgang Streeck (MPIfG, sociology)

WINIR Council

The Council consists of a President, Secretary, Treasurer, Publicity Officer and four other elected members (draft WINIR Constitution, Art. 6.3).

The inaugural WINIR Council comprises eight members from four continents.

President

Katharina Pistor

Columbia University
USA

Secretary

Geoffrey M. Hodgson

University of Herfordshire
UK

Treasurer

Francesca Gagliardi

University of Herfordshire
UK

Publicity Officer

David Gindis

University of Herfordshire
UK

Ana Célia Castro

Federal University of Rio de Janeiro
Brazil

Kainan Huang

Shandong University
China

Klaus Nielsen

Birkbeck, University of London
UK

Ugo Pagano

University of Siena, Italy &
Central European University, Hungary

The WINIR Council is responsible for the general welfare of WINIR, its finances, the processing of membership applications, the maintenance of the membership lists, and the production and auditing of accounts (draft WINIR Constitution, Art. 6.1).

Journal of Institutional Economics

WINIR sponsors the Journal of Institutional Economics (JOIE), a journal devoted to the study of the nature, role and evolution of institutions in the economy, including firms, states, markets, money, households and other vital institutions and organisations.

JOIE is an interdisciplinary journal of particular interest to academics working in the social sciences. Although its primary focus is economics and business studies, contributions from anthropology, geography, history, law, philosophy, politics, or sociology are welcome.

JOIE accepts contributions by all schools of thought that can contribute to our understanding of the features, development and functions of real world economic institutions and organisations.

JOIE is published by Cambridge University Press for Millennium Economics Ltd.

Since its first issue in June 2005, JOIE has gained in visibility and prominence. In 2012 the journal was listed in the Thomson-Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®, achieving a high impact factor for a newly-established journal. JOIE's* impact factor has been steadily growing ever since.

JOIE has accepted or published essays by leading authors in the field of institutional research, including:

Richard Adelstein, Douglas W. Allen, Cristiano Antonelli, Masahiko Aoki, Peter J. Boettke, Mark C. Casson, John B. Davis, Simon Deakin, Giovanni Dosi, Robin Dunbar, Thráinn Eggertsson, Teppo Felin, Alexander J. Field, Nicolai J. Foss, Werner Güth, Peter T. Leeson, Brian J. Loasby, Steven G. Medema, Claude Ménard, Thomas Miceli, Philip Mirowski, Ugo Pagano, Elinor Ostrom, Francesco Parisi, Richard A. Posner, David Reisman, James A. Robinson, Vernon W. Ruttan, John R. Searle, Mark Setterfield, Viktor Vanberg, Mary Shirley, Sidney G. Winter, Oliver E. Williamson and Ulrich Witt.

Elinor Ostrom Prize

The Elinor Ostrom Prize has been established in honour of the late Nobel laureate Elinor Ostrom (1933-2012), who was an enormously creative scholar and an outstanding pioneer of the interdisciplinary field of institutional research.

Her most famous work focused on the problem of managing and maintaining common-pool resources, but she also applied her ideas to problems of political governance and climate change. Her theoretical work on rules is of paramount importance. In her last decade she became increasingly interested in how rule-systems (or institutions) evolve.

Elinor Ostrom's articles published in JOIE are among the journal's most-cited papers, and are included in the Anniversary Paper Collection compiled by the editors to mark the 10th anniversary of JOIE.

A prize of £1000, funded by the Foundation for European Economic Development (FEED), is awarded each year for the best full-length article published in JOIE in the preceding calendar year. Each annual prize competition is judged by an international committee of experts in the field of institutional research.

For the inaugural Elinor Ostrom Prize to be awarded in 2014, the panel of judges comprising Masahiko Aoki, Timur Kuran, Ugo Pagano, Mary Shirley and Ulrich Witt, considered all full-length articles published in JOIE in 2013.

Shortlisted articles

The four shortlisted articles are:

Richard Grabowski, "The formation of growth coalitions: the role of the rural sector", Journal of Institutional Economics 9(3): 329-350.

Fabio Landini, "Institutional change and information production", Journal of Institutional Economics, 9(3): 257-284.

Francisco J. Beltrán Tapia, "Enclosing literacy? Common lands and human capital in Spain, 1860-1930", Journal of Institutional Economics, 9(4): 491-515.

Stefan Voigt, "How (not) to measure institutions", Journal of Institutional Economics, 9(1): 1-26.

The winner of the inaugural Elinor Ostrom Prize will receive the award at the conference dinner on Saturday 13 September 2014.

INSTITUTIONAL ECONOMICS

10TH
ANNIVERSARY

To celebrate JOIE's 10th anniversary WINIR and Cambridge University Press invite you to attend a reception on Thursday 11 September 2014.

Conference theme

It is now widely accepted that institutions, broadly defined as systems of established social rules, are the stuff of social and economic life. Institutions are key factors in explaining human well-being, economic performance, the preservation of natural resources, and social evolution. Just as institutions have helped to bring greater prosperity and the development of human capabilities, institutions are central for our future.

Although the nature and role of institutions are matters of active research in several academic disciplines, including (but not limited to) economics, history, law, philosophy, politics and sociology, “we still have a very incomplete understanding of the complex institutional and technologically interdependent structure of political economies” (Douglass C. North, 2005).

The aim of the Inaugural WINIR Conference is to help promote creative conversations across disciplinary boundaries. Unconfined to any single discipline or any specific theoretical approach, the conference welcomes contributions from any approach that can help us understand the nature and role of institutions.

Representing five academic disciplines, the keynote speakers at the Inaugural WINIR Conference have made substantial contributions to interdisciplinary institutional research. Common threads in their research include the institutional nature of social reality, and the important role played by legal, political and social institutions in enhancing or hindering economic performance.

The conference also features seven special sessions on themes of particular interest to institutional researchers. These include: institutional complementarities, the meaning and relevance of property rights, the legal personality of the firm, the social institutions of social science, and the evolution of organisations. Two sessions are also dedicated to the pioneering work of János Kornai and the late Nobel laureate Ronald H. Coase.

The remaining papers are organised in sessions according to the allocations decided by the WINIR Scientific Quality Committee. Parallel sessions P1 and P4 have four 20-minute presentations, parallel sessions P2 contain five 16-minute presentations, and parallel sessions P3 comprise six or seven 12-minute presentations.

A wide variety of themes are covered in these sessions, including: institutional methodology; institutional evolution; market institutions; political institutions; legal institutions; institutional change; institutions, competition and innovation; states, networks, innovation and entrepreneurship; firms and corporations; firms and industries; banks, contracts and property; money and finance; institutions, welfare and ecology; institutions and the natural environment; families, castes and disasters; institutions and development; institutions in transitional economies; institutions in Europe; and institutions for the future.

Keynote speakers

Geoffrey Ingham is Emeritus Reader in Sociology and Political Economy, and a Life Fellow at Christ's College at the University of Cambridge (UK). Before his appointment at Cambridge he held positions at the university of Sussex and Leicester. His work in economic sociology and political economy focuses on the institutional nature of money and capitalism. He is the author of Capitalism Divided? The City and Industry in British Social Development (Macmillan, 1984), The Nature of Money (Polity, 2004), Concepts of Money: Interdisciplinary Perspectives from Economics, Sociology and Political Science (Edward Elgar, 2005) and Capitalism: With a New Postscript on the Financial Crisis (2nd ed., Polity, 2011). A festschrift was recently published in his honour by Jocelyn Pixley and G. C. Harcourt (eds), Financial Crises and the Nature of Capitalist Money: Mutual Developments from the Work of Geoffrey Ingham (Palgrave Macmillan, 2013).

Timur Kuran is Professor of Economics and Political Science, and the Gorter Family Professor of Islamic Studies at Duke University (USA). He previously held positions at the University of Southern California, Princeton, Chicago and Stanford. His research focuses on social change, including the evolution of preferences and institutions, and the economic and legal history of the Middle East. He is the author of Private Truths, Public Lies: The Social Consequences of Preference Falsification (Harvard University Press, 1995), Islam and Mammon: The Economic Predicaments of Islamism (Princeton University Press, 2004) and The Long Divergence: How Islamic Law Held Back the Middle East (Princeton University Press, 2011). He is the President of the Association for Analytic Learning about Islam and Muslim Societies, as well as a member of the Executive Committee of the International Economic Association. Professor Kuran is an Honorary President of WINIR and a member of the WINIR Scientific Quality Committee.

Katharina Pistor is Michael I. Sovern Professor of Law at Columbia Law School (USA), Director of the School's Center on Global Legal Transformation, and a member of the Board of Directors of the European Corporate Governance Institute. Prior to joining Columbia she held positions at Harvard and the Max Planck Institute for Comparative and International Private Law. An expert on the impact of globalisation on the transformation of legal institutions in the areas of finance, property rights and transnational regulation, she is Principal Investigator of the “Global Finance and Law Initiative” funded by the Institute for New Economic Thinking. She is the author of Law and Capitalism: What Corporate Crises Reveal About Legal Systems and Economic Development Around the World (with Curtis J. Milhaupt, University of Chicago Press, 2008). In 2012 she received the Max Planck Research Award. In 2014 she was awarded the Allen & Overy Law Prize for her article “A Legal Theory of Finance” (J. Comp. Econ.). Professor Pistor is President of WINIR.

Barry Smith is SUNY Distinguished Professor and Julian Park Chair of Philosophy at the State University of New York at Buffalo (USA), and Director of the National Center of Ontological Research. He has held positions at the universities of Sheffield, Manchester, Liechtenstein and Leipzig. With groundbreaking contributions in numerous areas of theoretical and applied ontology, his research currently focuses on the application of ontology in biomedicine and biomedical informatics. He also collaborates with Hernando de Soto on the ontology of property rights and documentation in social and economic development. He is the author and editor of over 400 works, including John Searle (Cambridge University Press, 2003), The Mystery of Capital and the Construction of Social Reality (co-edited with David Mark and Isaac Ehrlich, Open Court, 2008) and Applied Ontology: An Introduction (co-edited with Katherine Munn, Ontos, 2008). In 2002 he received the Wolfgang Paul Award of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. In 2010 he was awarded the University of Turin's first Paolo Bozzi Prize in Ontology.

Kathleen Thelen is Ford Professor of Political Science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (USA), and a Permanent External Scientific Member at the Max Planck Institute for the Study of Societies in Cologne (Germany). She has held positions at Oberlin College, Princeton and Northwestern. A prominent contributor to the literature on institutional change and labour market institutions, she is the author of How Institutions Evolve: The Political Economy of Skills in Germany, Britain, the United States and Japan (Cambridge University Press, 2004), and co-editor of Beyond Continuity: Institutional Change in Advanced Political Economies (with Wolfgang Streeck, Oxford University Press, 2005) and Explaining Institutional Change: Ambiguity, Agency and Power (with James Mahoney, Cambridge University Press, 2010). In 2003 she received the Max Planck Research Award. How Institutions Evolve was awarded the Woodrow Wilson Foundation Award of the American Political Science Association in 2005, and the Mattei Dogan Award of the International Political Science Association. Professor Thelen is an editor of JOIE and an Honorary President of WINIR.

Conference venue

Maritime Greenwich

The Old Royal Naval College is located in south-east London, in the Royal Borough of Greenwich. The compound is currently used as its main campus by the University of Greenwich.

With its iconic baroque buildings designed by Sir Christopher Wren (architect among other things of London's landmark St Paul's Cathedral) and built between 1696 and 1712, the Old Royal Naval College is part of the UNESCO Maritime Greenwich World Heritage Site.

Maritime Greenwich extends behind the Old Royal Naval College to the beautiful Greenwich Park that contains on a hill overlooking the Thames the Royal Observatory, the first purpose-built scientific building in England. Since its completion in 1676 the Observatory has been a leading centre for research into astronomy, time-keeping and maritime navigational measurement.

The Greenwich prime meridian, an institution that changed the world, was established at the Observatory in 1851. It was internationally adopted as the world prime meridian in 1884.

Other attractions on the site include the beautiful Royal Naval College Chapel, the spectacular Painted Hall, the National Maritime Museum and Queen's House.

Sessions

The registration desk, open from 12:00 on Thursday 11 September and from 9:00 on Friday 12 September and Saturday 13 September, is located on the ground floor of the Stephen Lawrence Building (marker A in the following events map).

This two-floor building is on the west side of the compound along the King William Walk, just one block away from the Cutty Sark, probably the most famous British clipper of all time.

All parallel sessions are held in the Stephen Lawrence Building. Most coffee/tea breaks are served here. Publisher exhibits are also located here.

All plenary sessions take place in a large state-of-the-art lecture theatre in the King William Court building, just a few minutes away (marker B in the events map).

Lunches are served in adjacent rooms (Friday 12 and Saturday 13 September).

Social events

All social events take place within walking distance at other locations on or around the compound.

A welcome reception (Thursday 11 September), co-sponsored by Cambridge University Press to mark the 10th anniversary of JOIE, is scheduled to take place in the Council Room on the ground floor of Queen Anne Court (marker C in events map) from 18:30 to 20:00.

The conference dinner (Saturday 13 September) will take place in the grand Queen Mary Undercroft room, beneath the Royal Naval College Chapel in Queen Mary Court (marker D in events map), from 19:30 to 22:30. The Inaugural Elinor Ostrom Prize will be awarded at this event.

Some delegates may also be tempted by a round of informal drinks (Friday 12 September) at The Trafalgar Tavern, a local pub overlooking the Thames (marker E in events map), from 19:00 to 20:30.

A guided tour of historic Greenwich with professional guides Richard and Claire is planned on the morning of Sunday 14 September from 9:45 to 12:00 (at an additional cost of £10/person). Limited places are available.

Travel

Links to Central London

Since Greenwich is a major tourist attraction, access to and from central London, including all major train stations, is easy by public transport. Greenwich is just 20 minutes from Central London in Zone 2 of London's travel network.

In addition to the Dockland's Light Railway (DLR) that links to Canary Wharf and the Jubilee line, as well as to Bank and the Central and Northern lines, regular train services connect Greenwich to London Bridge, Blackfriars, Farringdon and St Pancras. Several DLR and train stations are within easy walking distance of the conference venue.

- DLR station Cutty Sark: 3 minutes
- DLR station Greenwich: 10 minutes
- Train station Greenwich: 10 minutes
- Train station Maze Hill: 12 minutes

Travellers also have the choice of regular bus services to central London (e.g. line 188 to Russell Square) and regular riverboat services sailing to London Bridge, Embankment and Westminster.

Links to Heathrow and Gatwick

There are several possibilities for travel from Heathrow to Greenwich. The Heathrow Express train provides regular transit to London Paddington train station, taking around 15 minutes. Various combinations of Tube, DLR and train services reach Greenwich from Paddington in roughly 45 minutes.

A cheaper way to travel from Heathrow to Greenwich is to take the Piccadilly Line until Green Park, change to the Jubilee Line until London Bridge, and finally take the Southeastern train to Greenwich Rail Station. The estimated travel time is around 1 hour and 15 minutes.

There are likewise several possibilities for travel from Gatwick to Greenwich. The Gatwick Express is a regular 30-minute train transit to London Victoria train station. Various combinations of Tube and train services reach Greenwich from Victoria in about 30 minutes.

However, the easiest and cheapest way to travel from Gatwick to Greenwich is to take the train (that runs every 15 minutes) to London Bridge from where it is easy to catch the Southeastern train to Greenwich Rail Station. The journey takes around 40-50 minutes.

General information

Equipment

All rooms are fully equipped for PowerPoint presentations, and all material will be ready in advance of sessions.

WiFi is available on campus for all conference participants. Unique login details are provided in the delegate pack, and can be requested at the registration desk on the ground floor of the Stephen Lawrence Building.

Session organisation

Presenters using a PowerPoint presentation are asked to load the file on the computer before or at the beginning of the session.

Session chairs are asked to be strict on time-keeping, allowing each presenter no more than the allocated time (12, 16 or 20 minutes).

In each 2-hour slot chairs are asked to leave time for a general Q&A exchange after all the presentations. This should leave between 30 and 40 minutes for discussion in each session.

Coffee/tea and lunch breaks

The conference programme contains regular 30-minute coffee/tea breaks. All but the last slot are served on the first floor of the Stephen Lawrence Building in room SL106.

Buffet lunches last 75 minutes and are served on the third floor at King William Court.

Book exhibits

Book exhibits by Cambridge University Press and Edward Elgar Publishing can be found in the circulation area on the first floor of the Stephen Lawrence Building.
