Welcome

WINIR has been set up to promote institutional research by bringing together scholars from all disciplines and theoretical approaches to contribute to our understanding of how institutions change the world. This initiative has attracted worldwide interest among institutional researchers. With around 500 members from six continents, WINIR is a rapidly-growing network.

After the success of the Inaugural WINIR Conference on “Institutions that Change the World” (London, UK, 11-14 September 2014) and the First WINIR Symposium on “The Nature and Governance of the Corporation” (Lugano, Switzerland, 22-24 April 2015), we expect the Second WINIR Conference on “Institutions, Development and Globalization”, our first event in Brazil, to be an important step in our joint development of institutional research around the world.

We hope that you will enjoy your three days in Rio de Janeiro, a wonderful city that celebrates its 450th anniversary this year.

A number of WINIR events are planned in the near future, including the Second WINIR Symposium on “Property Rights” in Bristol, UK (4-6 April 2016), and the Third WINIR Conference on “Institutions and Human Behaviour” in Boston, USA (2-5 September 2016). The Fourth WINIR Conference on “Institutions and Open Societies” will be held in Utrecht, The Netherlands, in September 2017.

To help us organise events of the highest quality we would appreciate your feedback and ideas. Please return the feedback form that you will find in the delegate pack before the end of the conference.

We would welcome your proposals to organise or host WINIR conferences, symposia, workshops or special sessions around the world.

We hope to see you at future WINIR events.

Acknowledgements

Generous financial support was provided by INCT/PPED. We are particularly grateful to Ana Célia Castro for her role in securing this funding. We also thank Cambridge University Press for sponsoring the welcome reception. Finally, we are indebted to Vinny Logan and Caetano Penna for their invaluable logistical support.

About WINIR

Officially launched in October 2013, WINIR brings together researchers in all disciplines who are devoted to the study of the nature, function, evolution, and impact of the institutions and organisations of economic and social life.

WINIR organises conferences, workshops, and hosted conference sessions, around the world. All WINIR events are explicitly about institutions (or organisations), and/or address institutional thought, from any academic discipline.

WINIR is a specialist but global network, set up to complement rather than rival other scholarly associations that have the study of institutions on their agenda. Unconfined to any single academic discipline, it accepts contributions from any approach that can help us understand the nature and role of institutions. WINIR aims to promote creative conversations across disciplinary boundaries in order to build an adaptable and interdisciplinary theoretical consensus concerning core issues, which can be a basis for cumulative learning and scientific progress in the exciting and rapidly-expanding area of institutional research.

Leading pioneers of institutional research are Honorary Presidents of WINIR:

Daron Acemoglu (MIT), Howard E. Aldrich (North Carolina), Masahiko Aoki (Stanford), Peter J. Boettke (George Mason), Paul J. DiMaggio (Princeton), Peter B. Evans (UCLA), Neil Fligstein (UCLA), Margaret P. Gilbert (UC Irvine), Avner Greif (Stanford), Peter A. Hall (Harvard), Henry B. Hansmann (Yale), János Kornai (Corvinus), Timur Kuran (Duke), Richard N. Langlois (Connecticut), Richard Lipsey (Simon Fraser), Claude Ménard (Paris), Richard R. Nelson (Columbia), Douglass C. North (WUSTL), John V.C. Nye (George Mason), Johan P. Olsen (Oslo), Walter W. Powell (Stanford), James Robinson (Harvard), Dani Rodrik (Princeton), Malcolm Rutherford (Victoria), W. Richard Scott (Stanford), John R. Searle (Berkeley), Mary M. Shirley (Ronald Coase Institute),

David Soskice (LSE), Wolfgang Streeck (MPIfG), Robert Sugden (East Anglia), Kathleen Thelen (MIT), Viktor Vanberg (Freiburg)

WINIR has established a permanent Scientific Quality Committee (SQC) to ensure that WINIR events are of the highest academic quality. The WINIR SQC reports to the WINIR Council, and consists of leading academics with expertise in economics, sociology, politics, law, philosophy, or other disciplines. Members of the WINIR SQC serve fixed terms in rotation. The inaugural WINIR SQC comprises eight members representing five disciplines:

Peter J. Boettke (George Mason, economics), Simon Deakin (Cambridge, law), Geoffrey M. Hodgson (Hertfordshire, economics), Timur Kuran (Duke, economics), Uskali Mäki (Helsinki, philosophy), Katharina Pistor (Columbia, law), Sven Steinmo (EUI, political science), Wolfgang Streeck (MPIfG, sociology)

WINIR Council

According to the WINIR Constitution (Art. 6.3), that was approved by a large majority at the first membership meeting held in London on 13 September 2014, the Council consists of a President, Secretary, Treasurer, Publicity Officer and four other elected members.

The inaugural WINIR Council comprises eight members from four continents.

The WINIR Council is responsible for the general welfare of WINIR, its finances, the processing of membership applications, the maintenance of the membership lists, and the production and auditing of accounts (WINIR Constitution, Art. 6.1).

The next election of the WINIR Council will take place in early 2016.

Candidates for elections to the Council must be paid-members of WINIR, and are requested to become directors of WINIR Ltd., a position that they must agree to resign when they are no longer members of the Council (Art. 7.3). A candidate may be nominated for more than one position on the Council, but may be elected to no more than one (Art. 7.4).

The due date for nominations is 18 January 2016.

Please contact the WINIR Secretary if you would like to stand for election.

Journal of Institutional Economics

WINIR sponsors the Journal of Institutional Economics (JOIE), a journal devoted to the study of the nature, role and evolution of institutions in the economy, including firms, states, markets, money, households and other vital institutions and organisations.

JOIE is an interdisciplinary journal of particular interest to academics working in the social sciences. Although its primary focus is economics and business studies, contributions from anthropology, geography, history, law, philosophy, politics, or sociology are welcome.

JOIE accepts contributions by all schools of thought that can contribute to our understanding of the features, development and functions of real world economic institutions and organisations.

JOIE is published by Cambridge University Press for Millennium Economics Ltd.

Since its first issue in June 2005, JOIE has gained in visibility and prominence. In 2012 the journal was listed in the Thomson-Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®, achieving a high impact factor for a newly-established journal. JOIE's impact factor has been steadily growing ever since.

JOIE has accepted or published essays by leading authors in the field of institutional research, including:

Richard Adelstein, Douglas W. Allen, Bruno Amable, Cristiano Antonelli, Masahiko Aoki, Yoram Barzel, Peter J. Boettke, Ha-Joon Chang, Daniel H. Cole, Mark C. Casson, John B. Davis, Simon Deakin, Giovanni Dosi, Robin Dunbar, Thráinn Eggertsson, Teppo Felin, Alexander J. Field, Nicolai J. Foss, Werner Güth, Geoffrey M. Hodgson, Peter T. Leeson, Brian J. Loasby, Deirdre N. McCloskey, Steven G. Medema, Claude Ménard, Thomas Miceli, Philip Mirowski, Ugo Pagano, Elinor Ostrom, Francesco Parisi, Richard A. Posner, David Reisman, James A. Robinson, Vernon W. Ruttan, John R. Searle, Mark Setterfield, Viktor Vanberg, Mary Shirley, Sidney G. Winter, Oliver E. Williamson and Ulrich Witt.

“The Journal of Institutional Economics is bringing together the best scholarship from all over the world on the study of institutions, the incentives they generate, and likely outcomes. I enthusiastically look forward to each issue.”

Elinor Ostrom (1933-2012)

Nobel Laureate in Economics, 2009

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Elinor Ostrom Prize

The Elinor Ostrom Prize has been established in honour of the late Nobel laureate Elinor Ostrom (1933-2012), who was an enormously creative scholar and an outstanding pioneer of the interdisciplinary field of institutional research.

Her most famous work focused on the problem of managing and maintaining common-pool resources, but she also applied her ideas to problems of political governance and climate change. Her theoretical work on rules is of paramount importance. In her last decade she became increasingly interested in how rule-systems (or institutions) evolve.

Elinor Ostrom's articles published in JOIE are among the journal's most-cited papers, and are included in the Anniversary Paper Collection compiled by the editors to mark the 10th anniversary of JOIE.

A prize of £1000, funded by the Foundation for European Economic Development (FEED), is awarded each year for the best full-length article published in JOIE in the preceding calendar year.

For the Elinor Ostrom Prize to be awarded in 2015, the panel of experts comprising Bruno Amable, Chris Coyne, David Dequech, Thráinn Eggertsson, William Milberg, Ugo Pagano and Malcolm Rutherford, considered all full-length articles published in JOIE in 2014.

Shortlisted articles

The five shortlisted articles are:

John Buchanan, Dominic Chai & Simon Deakin, “Empirical Analysis of Legal Institutions and Institutional Change: Multiple-Methods Approaches and Their Application to Corporate Governance Research”, JOIE 10(1): 1-20.

Xavier Hollandts & Virgile Chassignon, “Who are the Owners of the Firm: Shareholders, Employees or No-One?” JOIE 10(1): 47-69.

Juha Hiedanpää & Daniel W. Bromley, “Payments for Environmental Services: Durable Habits, Dubious Nudges, Doubtful Efficacy”, JOIE 10(2): 175-195.

Daniel H. Cole, Graham Epstein & Michael McGinnis, “Digging Deeper into Hardin’s Pasture: The Complex Institutional Structure of the “Tragedy of the Commons””, JOIE 10(3): 353-369.

Valentin Seidler, “When do Institutional Transfers Work? The Relation between Institutions, Culture and the Transplant Effect: The Case of Bornu in North-Eastern Nigeria”, JOIE 10(3): 371-397.

The winner of the Elinor Ostrom Prize will receive the award at the conference dinner on Saturday 12 September 2015.

Conference theme

While economic development depends on investment and technology, it is now widely accepted that appropriate political, legal, economic and other social institutions have also to be in place. But there is less agreement on what those institutions (broadly defined as systems of established social rules) may be, especially at different stages of the process of economic development. There are also ongoing debates about whether globalization is leading to institutional convergence, or whether national institutional diversity can be maintained.

Although the nature and role of institutions are matters of active research in several academic disciplines, including (but not limited to) economics, history, law, philosophy, politics and sociology, “we still have a very incomplete understanding of the complex institutional and technologically interdependent structure of political economies” (Douglass C. North, 2005).

The aim of the Second WINIR Conference is to address these important issues, and help promote creative conversations across disciplinary boundaries. Unconfined to any single discipline or any specific theoretical approach, the conference welcomes contributions from any approach that can help us understand the nature and role of institutions in the processes of development and globalization.

Representing the disciplines of economics, philosophy and sociology, the keynote speakers at the Second WINIR Conference, Ricardo Crespo, Dani Rodrik and Viviana Zelizer, have made substantial contributions to interdisciplinary institutional research. Common threads in their research include the institutional nature of social reality, and the important role played by legal, political and social institutions in enhancing or hindering economic performance.

The conference also features a round table on institutions, development and globalization with Leonardo Burlamaqui, Benjamin Coriat, Geoffrey M. Hodgson and Katharina Pistor, and a special session on the institutional restructuring of the “New” Turkey (organised by Derya Gülteken),

A wide variety of themes is covered in the parallel sessions, including: foundations of institutional analysis; developments in institutional theory; legal and political determinants of development; institutions for entrepreneurship and cooperation; institutions for governance and competition; institutions for knowledge diffusion; institutions for sustainability and biodiversity financial institutions; institutions and renewable energy production; regulation and institutional change; capitalist institutions and inequality; variety of capitalism and institutional diversity; property and contracts; habits and routines; the legal nature of the firm; modes of governance; institutions, culture and social capital; institutional quality and change; and the changing functions of the state.

In addition, a number of sessions focus on: Brazilian developmental institutions; Latin American development; colonial institutions and African development; East Asian development; institutions, politics and development in transitional economies; empirical studies of institutions and development; case studies of institutions and development; and case studies of the impact of institutions in the polity and economy.

Keynote speakers

RICARDO CRESPO is Professor of Philosophy of Economics at the Universidad Austral's IAE Business School (Argentina), and a researcher Argentina's National Council of Scientific Research (CONICET). He is the Vice Provost for Research at Austral. Prior to joining Austral he held positions at UCEMA and Cuyo. His research deals with economic methodology, rationality, causality, Aristotle, Keynes, and the Austrian school. He is the author of A Re-Assessment of Aristotle's Economic Thought (Routledge, 2014), Philosophy of the Economy: An Aristotelian Approach (Springer, 2013), and Theoretical and Practical Reason in Economics: Capacities and Capabilities (Springer, 2012). He is a former member of the executive editorial board of Journal of Markets and Morality, and the current Secretary of the International Network for Economic Method.

DANI RODRIK is Ford Foundation Professor of International Political Economy at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government (USA). He previously held positions at Columbia and the Institute for Advanced Study. His research focuses on globalization, economic growth and development, and political economy. He is the author of The Globalization Paradox: Democracy and the Future of the World Economy

(W. W. Norton, 2011), One Economics, Many Recipes; Globalization, Institutions and Economic Growth (Princeton University Press, 2007),

Has Globalization Gone Too Far? (Institute for International Economics, 1997), and more recently Economics Rules: The Rights and Wrongs of the Dismal Science (W. W. Norton, 2015). He is the Vice-President of the International Economic Association, and a General Editor of Global Policy. Professor Rodrik is an Honorary President of WINIR.

VIVIANA ZELIZER is Llyod Cotsen '50 Professor of Sociology at Princeton University (USA). She formerly held positions at Rutgers and Columbia. Her research in economic sociology focuses on the attribution of cultural and moral meaning to the economy, consumption practices and the circuits of commerce. She is the author of Economic Lives: How Culture Shapes the Economy (Princeton University Press, 2010), The Purchase of Intimacy (Princeton University Press, 2005), The Social Meaning of Money (Basic Books, 1994), Pricing the Priceless Child: The Changing Social Value of Children (Basic Books: 1985), and Morals and Markets: The Development of Life Insurance in the United States (Columbia University Press, 1979). In 2001 she was elected the first chair of the newly created Economic Sociology section of the American Sociological Association.

Rio information

Rio de Janeiro

Windsor Atlantica is a 5-star hotel is located on the famous Copacabana beach in one of the culturally richer neighbourhoods of Rio. The venue is within walking distance (30 minutes) of the iconic Sugarloaf Mountain (Pão de Açúcar) that lies at the mouth of Guanabara Bay in Brazil's second largest city.

Founded by the Portuguese in 1565 Rio de Janeiro became the capital of the State of Brazil, a state in the Portuguese Empire, in 1763. Between 1808 and 1821, during a rare event known as a “metropolitan reversal” (formal shift of the capital of a colonising country to a city in one of its colonies), Rio was the capital of the Kingdom of Portugal. Following the country’s independence from Portugal in 1822, Rio became the capital of the Empire of Brazil until the Proclamation of the Republic in 1889, and remained the capital until 1960 when the country’s capital was officially moved to the purpose-built Brasilia in the center of the country.

In 2015 the city commemorates its 450th anniversary. Numerous events are planned around the city, already transformed to accommodate last year's FIFA World Cup and the XXXI Olympic Games in 2016.

Travel from and to airports

There are two airports in Rio de Janeiro: Galeão (GIG) is the international airport while the smaller Santos Dumont (SDU) is for domestic flights only. Taxi connections between the airports and the hotels are cheap and reliable.¹ Taxis operated by Aercoop or Aerotaxi, to be found outside the airport building, are recommended. These taxis are yellow and metered. (If you take a Radiotaxi from inside the airport building these may be double the price.)

From Santos Dumont there is also an organised taxi line. The price for a one-way trip from Galeão to Copacabana is approx. R$75 and from Santos Dumont to Copacabana is approx. R$30. It is best to arrange a taxi via the concierge desk at your hotel when going to the airports.

¹ Please note that although WINIR has made every effort to ensure the reliability of the information provided, WINIR cannot accept any responsibility or liability for its accuracy or completeness.

Personal safety

Rio is a wonderful city and has much to enjoy but it is important to take care when out and about. It is vital to always know where you are, and only go where there are other people around. Tourist police are present in the popular areas, including Copacabana. The main streets in Copacabana and Ipanema are relatively safe until around 22:00 but much less so after that. Taxis are cheap, so taking one is often the best option after dark. Always use licensed taxis. The beach walk in Copacabana is relatively safe in the evenings, while it is well lit and the shops are open. Avoid the downtown city area after shops are closed (around 19:00). Do not visit the favelas or other poor areas unless you are on an official tour with someone who lives or works in them. The hotel concierge can arrange tours to the favelas.

Avoid wearing expensive jewellery, watches and clothes. Do not carry large sums of money and keep mobile phones and cameras out of sight. Be mindful of possible pickpockets. Leave your passport and valuables in a safe place in your hotel. Do not take money, credit cards, passports or valuables with you to the beach. Some form of photo ID may be needed at other times.

Conference information

Sessions

The registration desk, open from 11:00 on Thursday 10 September and from 8:00 on Friday 11 September, is located in room Cabo Frio D on the 1st floor of the Atlantica.

Plenary sessions are held in room Angra B+C on the 2nd floor. The round table and the membership meeting are also held in this large room.

All parallel sessions are held in various rooms on the 1st and 2nd floors.

Presenters using a PowerPoint presentation are asked to load the file on the computer before or at the beginning of the session.

Session chairs are asked to be strict on time-keeping, allowing each presenter no more than the allocated time (15, 20 or 25 minutes), and to leave time for a general Q&A exchange after all the presentations.

Coffee/tea breaks and lunch

The conference programme contains regular 30-minute coffee/tea breaks, with refreshments served in the hall between the Cabo Frio and Paraty rooms on the 1st floor.

Lunches are served on the 5th floor.

Social events

A welcome reception, sponsored by Cambridge University Press, is scheduled on Thursday 10 September in room Angra B+C on the 2nd floor.

The conference dinner is scheduled on Saturday 12 September and will take place on the 5th floor.

Two optional guided tours of Rio with Rios de Historia, one of the best-regarded local tour guides. To book a place on the Walking Tour of Historic Downtown Rio that is scheduled on Thursday 10 September please contact raul@riosdehistoria.com directly in advance of the conference.

To book a place on the Christ the Redeemer and Botanical Gardens Tour scheduled on Sunday 13 September please either contact raul@riosdehistoria.com directly or book in person at the tour stand located in room Cabo Frio D on the 1st floor.

WiFi access

WiFi access is available for delegates staying at Atlantica. Other delegates can purchase daily access at the reception.
